President's Message

Motor School

"Enter to learn and leave to serve". I understand that is the motto of Brigham Young University. I feel that could be the motto of what I call motor school. So what is motor school? To me it is a Tech Session.

At the last session I learned how to lube and install a speedometer cable. I learned how to replace a water temperature/oil pressure gauge. I learned how to pull the old capillary tube through the dash, not an easy job when you consider that the hole is behind the heater box. Would you have removed the heater box? There is an easier way!

I learned once again of the skill of John Morrison in performing delicate tasks that prove impossible for others such as seating a stiff grommet in the firewall.

I learned how a team can go to work on a project or a problem and solve the problem and finish the project.

I learned again of the unselfish service of Jim, Doug, John, and Ernie.

I learned what a joy it was to drive home with a gauge that works!

What will we learn at the next motor school? Please come and see what you can learn.

Jim Pearce
